I. INTRODUCTION

According to UNESCO cultural expression is “expression that results from the creativity of individuals, groups and communities, and which has cultural content.” TCE is seen as an integral part of culture and social identity, customary heritage and local communities, reflecting core values and beliefs (Djulaeka, 2018)

According to the Copyright Act of 2014, protected traditional cultural expression (TCE) includes one or a combination of the following forms of expression: (Idriaty, 2015)

1. Textual verbals, both oral and written, in the form of prose and poetry, in a variety of themes and content of messages, which can be in the form of works of literature or informative narratives,
2. music, including but not limited to: vocal, instrumental or a combination
3. motion, including among others: dance, martial arts, and games
4. theater, including among others: puppet shows and folk plays
5. Fine art, both in the form of two dimensions or not dimensions made of various kinds

The cultural value system of the Madurese people is the conceptions that live in the minds of most Madurese people, with regard to the things they consider valuable in life. Therefore the Madura cultural value system functions as the highest guideline for the behavior of Madurese people. As part of the customs or forms of cultural ideas, the Madurese community since childhood has been permeated by the cultural values that live in their communities. That is why, Madurese cultural values are difficult to be replaced with other cultural values in a short time (Kurniasari, 2007)

In accordance with the opinion expressed by Kluckhon (in Koentjaraningrat, 1982; and Manan, 1989), this cultural value system is associated with six main problems in human life namely (i) the nature of human life, (ii) the nature of human work, (iii) the nature of man's position in space and time, (iv) the nature of man's relationship with the natural surroundings, (v) the nature of man's relationship with each other, and (vi) the nature of man and his Lord. (Kurniasari, 2007)

Curriculum (subjects) Containing Cultural Values of Peace
One of the objectives of this study is to analyze school curriculum that contain peaceful cultural values and national character. Some subjects that contain peaceful cultural values and national character include Agama, PPKN and Bahasa Indonesia.

Madura Cultural Values Containing the Values of National Character and Peaceful Culture
The next analysis is about Madurese cultural values that contain national character and a culture of peace. The research subject is culture in the form of Madura songs.

The Madurese have a certain conception of the nature of life. The conception of the nature of Madurese life is not impossible to have in common with people outside Madura, or something else. Among Madurese people, living according to their views, is a sign of struggle. This is evident from the expression of the Madurese people abantal omba 'asapo 'angin (padded in wind-enveloped waves). This view gave birth to the attitude of the Madurese community including hard working attitude, introspective attitude, simple attitude and attitude of service. The conception relating to the nature of life is implicitly reflected in the Collection of Madura Songs.
Songs that became the object of study included Caca Aghuna, Dhin Aju Malate, Les-Balesan, Kembhang Naghara, Kerrabhan Sape, Ole’Olang, Tondu’ Majang, Pahlawan Trunoojoyo, Ekekke’ Rengnge and Madhura-Perna

Hard Working Attitude or Ulet (Abantal Ombak Asapo Angin)
Madura’s geographical condition is known for its hilly soils, which contain a lot of clay and lime, and a long dry season. This situation affects the Madurese character who seems hard and more resilient to work. Most Madurese livelihoods are fishermen. Madura fishermen are known to be brave, tenacious, hardworking and willing to accept risks. The tenacity and hard work of the fishermen is described by R. Amirudin Tjitraprawira in the Madura Songs Collection.

Kalau melihat hidupnya orang nelayan,
Berbantal ombak berselimut angin selamanya
Nelayan sungguh banyak bahayanya (resikonya)
Bekerja bermodal nyawa
(Tondu’ Majang dalam Kurniasari: 2007)

Translate:
If you look at the life of a fisherman,
Padded in wind-swept waves forever
Fishermen are a real danger (risk)
Working with capital
(Tondu’ Majang in Kurniasari: 2007)

From the quote above it appears that Madurese fishermen are portrayed as hard, unyielding, optimistic of their abilities and independent and willing to take risks. The geographical condition of Madura is hilly, contains a lot of clay and lime, and the long dry season also causes them to be more interested in leaving their area and looking for a livelihood outside Madura. This can be seen from the quote below

Penghidupan orang-orangnya bermacam-macam
Rela hidup menurut rezekinya masing-masing
Walau (kadang-kadang) jauh dari Madura
Mereka masih tetap mengenang pulauanya
Karena (mereka) tidak melupakan keindahannya.
(Madhura-Perna dalam Kurniasari: 2007)

Translate:
The livelihoods of the people vary
Willing to live according to their respective fortune
Although (sometimes) far from Madura
They still remember the island
Because (they) don’t forget their beauty.
(Madhura-Perna in Kurniasari: 2007)

The attitude of hard work, perseverance, patience in trying is also reflected in the Ole’Olang song

Perahunya mau berlayar, berlayar ke timur utara.
Perahunya mau berlayar ke Madura, tujuannya ke timur utara,
Berlayar dari surabaya, layarnya sudah dikembangkan,
Ayo dayung seperti layar besar, Masak tidak sampai tengah hari, ayo yang sabar.
(Ole’Olang, dalam Kurniasari: 2007)

Translate:
The boat will sail, sail north east.
The boat wants to sail to Madura, its destination is north east,
Sailing from Surabaya, the screen has been developed,
Come on paddle like a big screen,
Cook not until midday, let’s be patient.
(Ole’Olang, in Kurniasari: 2007)
The words ayo dayung (let the paddle) show in trying not to give up, be tenacious, work hard to get to the destination.

In addition there is another philosophy of life adopted by the Madurese community, which is better to die than bear the shame (angoan pote tolang etembang pote mata). In this view, people who do not work are considered shameful and become a burden on other people (being the rubbish of society).

Introspective Attitude (Ajalha Sotra)

Ajalha Sotra, has the meaning to catch fish, but the water should not be muddy and the fish will be caught unnoticed. This Madura proverb was originally used as a strategy of the Sumenep people to oppose Dutch colonialism in the 17th century. The tactic was forced to be used because the Sumenep people were not able to physically oppose. The strategy of Ajalha Sotra has become one of the Madurese attitudes in living life and this life to always be careful, introspective in all matters including health. The philosophy is described by M. Irshad in the following song poem quote:

Biasanya, bila malam tiba, nyamuk berkembang
Lebih-lebih, apabila parit-parit tak terawat
* Dari itu, wahai kawan, marilah kita bersiap-siap
* Jangan sampai nyamuk itu menyebabkan penyakit

* Tun-tun dangange-dangange
Telinga si Entun digigit nyamuk
Kasihan dia selalu mengeluh
Semalam suntuk merengek-rengek

Begitulah sindiran bagi yang malas melakukan kebersihan
Sebagai peringatan agar selalu berhati-hati.

(Ekekke` Rengnge` dalam Kurniasari: 2007)

Translate

Usually, when night falls, mosquitoes develop
Moreover, if the trenches are not maintained
* From that, O friends, let us get ready
* Do not let mosquitoes cause disease

* Tun-tun-dangange
Entun's ear was bitten by a mosquito
Poor she always complained
All night whining

That's a hint for those who are lazy to do cleanliness
As a warning to always be careful.

(Ekekke` Rengnge` in Kurniasari: 2007)

From the above, it can be seen that the Madurese have a principle of introspection in their lives, being careful in all matters including health.

Be Brave, Go Forward, Ever Give Up, Not Afraid to Die

Madurese are known as brave and strong individuals. This attitude is indirectly influenced by Madura's hot, dry, barren geographical environment. So to survive in life, they must be brave and strong. This brave and strong also in terms of holding the principles of truth. As long as what he does is right, then the Madurese will dare to fight for it. As in the following song quote:

Translate:

There used to be a hero in Madura who defended justice in the archipelago. Trunojoyo is brave and brave. In the city of Sampang, the aim is to expel invaders from Indonesia. Continue forward and challenge the enemy. Trunojoyo died because of being cheated by his people. But his heroism is remembered forever. (Pahlawan Trunojoyo in Kurniasari: 2007)
That brave, strong and unafraid attitude to death is also illustrated in the following poem Kerrabhan Sape:

Setiap tahun Madura tentu ramai.
Ramai karena ada kerapan sapi.
Banyak orang asing akan datang dari jauh, perlu melihat kerapan sapi Madura.
Ayo sapi lari cepat lari. Itu sapinya telah berjajar sudah dikerap

Yang naik sambil menari, dengan hati yang nekad, tidak takut mati.
Sapi lari seperti angin tidak takut mati.
Sapi asal saja bisa menyalip
E... sapi ke pinggir cepat meminggir
E... sapi ke pinggir cepat meminggir
(Kerrabhan Sape, dalam Kurniasari: 2007)

Translate:

Every year Madura is certainly crowded.
Crowded because there is bull racing.
Many foreigners will come from far away, seeing the Madurese bull racing
Let’s cows run fast run. That cow has lined up already absorbed

The one who rises while dancing, with a determined heart, is not afraid to die.
Cows run away like the wind not afraid to die.
Just as long as a cow can overtake
E... cow to the side quickly move aside
E... cow to the side quickly move aside
(Kerrabhan Sape, in Kurniasari: 2007)

Raja Cakraningrat is also famous for his courage and is often praised and a role model (mirror) for Madurese sons. The courage of Raja Cakraningrat is depicted in the song titled Kembhangnya Naghara by Acit (R.Amirudin T.) below:

(Kembhangnya Naghara in Kurniasari: 2007)

Do you know all the sons in Madhura. That long ago in the kingdom era, there was the development of the country. The flower came from the loss of prosperity there. Somewhere in the north of Bangkalan, it has now become a village. Pangeran Cakraningrat IV, also called sidingkap, this knight was already pure in defense of the country. The valiant knight was worshiped incessantly as a reflection of the young as the recipients (heirs) of Madura.

(Kembhang Naghara in Kurniasari: 2007)

Not arrogant, Not prejudiced, Useful conversation (Caca Aghuna)
The Madurese are very anti-arrogant. For those in conversation, there must be a point (Caca Aghuna). It is strictly forbidden to talk without shade. Conversation for the Madurese community must be useful and must be polite (using manners) In addition, keep away from bad prejudice. This is mentioned explicitly in the song verse below:

Mengapa semua jadi sombong
Percakapan tanpa teteduhan.
Lebih baik kita bercakap yang berguna
Menjauhkan diri dari prasangka buruk

Mengapa-mengapa
Bhujung ada di rumah
Bercakap-cakap
Pakailah tatakrama

Mari kawan, mari kawan semua
Mari bersama berbuat sesuatu yang bermanfaat
(Caca Aghuna dalam Kurniasari: 2007)

Translate
Why is everything so arrogant

We better talk useful
Keep away from bad prejudice

Why
Bhujung is at home
Converse
Use manners

Come on, guys, let's all, guys
Let's do something useful together

(Caca Aghuna in Kurniasari: 2007)

Resistiveness
Madura has a folklore that is famous for having educative tendencies, role models, so that someone can hold the envy that is burning in his heart, so that torture and complicate the way of life of others (especially his own brother). The message is implicit in the song poem by Dhin Aju Malate by M. Irsyad.

Dongeng tersebut tak ubahnya bagai ‘cermin besar’
(Tentang) R. Ayu Melati yang selalu dinista
Oleh saudara-saudaranya yang iri dan dengki
Beginilah isi nyanyian itu:

Wahai inang pengasuh
Anak-anak hendaknya cepat dimandikan
Baju-bajunya sudah tersedia di lemari
Wahai inang pengasuh
Sejas lama dia (R.A Melati selalu dinista
Sepanjang umur tersandung kesengsaraan

(Dhin Aju Malate dalam Kurniasari: 2007)

Translate:
The tale is like a ‘big mirror’
(About) R. Ayu Melati who is always insulted
By his jealous and envious brothers
This is what the song is about:

O caregiver
Children should be bathed quickly
His clothes are already available in the closet
O caregiver
After a long time he (R.A Melati always insulted
Throughout life stumble misery

(Dhin Aju Malate in Kurniasari: 2007)

The tale in the song tells of 3 sisters: Dhin Aju Cempaka, Dhin Aju Kananga, and Dhin Aju Malate. The two previous people always followed the youngest's actions, because of her patience, her diligent work in the household, especially her irrepressible beauty. she was always put aside in the association interspersed with false reports of her parents and her neighbors. The honest and the right people will definitely win. Finally, of the three sisters, melati who fared well in her life and humiliation now turned into an envious and envious life.
The attitude of reciprocation

One of the attitudes held by the people of Madura is the attitude of reciprocation. Someone in the community should know that they will repay for the good of others, must not forget the kindness of those who have helped them. This value is explicitly contained in the poetry song composed by M. Irsyad:

Mengapa kali ini kau tak menyapaku
Barangkalai aku bersalah padamu?
Tidak, tak ada apa-ap (antara kita)
Hanya aku enggan bercakap-cakap
Mengapa akhirnya kau jadi angkuh begini?

Siapa dari Barat itu?
Menanam talas di pinggir pagar
Tak ingatkah masa yang lalu?
Dirimu kala malas, enggan belajar

Siapa dari Barat itu?
Burung emprit berlompat-lompatan
Tak ingatkah masa yang lalu?
Jika kau tak punya, kau meminta-minta
Siapa dari Barat itu?
Bawa karung berisi gula
Tak ingatkah masa lalu?
Tiap berhitung, kau bertanya-tanya

Siapa dari Barat itu?
Karedore (Bima) menarik kereta
Tak ingatkah masa yang lalu
Jika sudah usai kau minta upah
(Les-Balesan : 80-81 dalam Kurniasari, 2007)

Don't remember the past?
When you are lazy, reluctant to study

Who is from the West?

(Les-Balesan: 80-81 in Kurniasari, 2007)
