Abstract: In this paper we have tried to discuss about the myth and variety of Patachitra of Krishna Lila and its artistic and cultural significance. We all know that traditional folk-art Patachitra is one of the important folk painting of India like Ricepaste Painting or Limestone Painting. According to the history of Indian folk painting, Patachitra of Krishna Lila has known as one of the favorite Pata-painting among the Indian people. According to its origin Patachitra of Krishna Lila has considered as Mythological Patachitra like Ram Lila, King Harishchandra, Chandi Mangal, Durgaleela, Sabitri satyaban etc. This type of Patachitra have seen in Puri, Murshidabad, Parulia, Purba Medinipur and Paschim Medinipur. From this type of Patachitra we can understand the actual form and transformation of Krishna Culture in general Bengali people.

Key Words: Krishna, Culture, Myth, Krishna Lila, Art, Patachitra, Folklore

I. Introduction:

Generally the term ‘Patachitra’ means hand made painting on cloths. It is related with folk-art and artistic thinking of folk people. Truly it is a good kind of folk-art. In general sense folk-art has considered as a branch of folklore. We know that the term ‘art’ simply means a creative expression or creation of artist. It has communicated and attracted all general people in all ages and all times. And folk-art is definitely a branch of art, which has verbally transmitted and developed in folk-groups and in folk societies. In this occasion we have to remember that the definition of ‘folk art’ has not been describing within two or three sentences. Because it is very dynamic art form and having variety. Beside this, it has also transmitted year after year through the whole period of civilization. In general, it may be considered as such art form which has created by folk artists. According to Encyclopedia Britannica the term ‘Folk-Art’ means ‘Predominantly functional or utilitarian visual art created by hand (or with limited mechanical facilities) for use by the maker or a small circumscribed group and containing an element of retention—the prolonged survival of tradition. Folk art is the creative expression of the human struggle toward civilization within a particular environment through the production of useful but aesthetic buildings and objects’. Basically it has divided into two categories. One is visual and the other is non-visual. In the broadest sense folk art also refers to the art of folk dance, folk song, folk literature, folk design, folk myth, etc Folk-art, generally formed by the non-educated or low-educated village people. It is true that they are very poor in economic condition and they have not any modern technological concept of art. But the general concept of art has existed in their blood. Particularly in the case of Patachitra we may be observed that this type of folk-art is ethnic in nature and in form it is very colorful, and also it bears myth and traditional cultural of country's rich heritage.

Art of Patachitra:

Pata- painting or Patachitra is an ancient folk-painting of India, which has a long history of 2500 years to its development and contribution to our society. There are many types of Patachitra has been creating, such as - Scrol Painting or Jarano Pata, Chouko Pata, Jama Pata, Saheb Pata, Kalighat pata etc. Now this kind of folk-art has become a popular folk-art among Bengali people as well as Indians and also to the foreigner.

The Patuas or scroll painters were generally known as folk-artists. But they have also a credibility as composer of simple songs, which is relating to ancient and modern sociological facts. By this simple song they told a story to the viewer or audience, which belongs historical facts or human culture or mythological gods or goddesses like Rama, Krishna, Siva, Durga, Lakshmi, Saraswati. In historical Pata they generally used famous historical facts of our civilization, like Second World War, French Revolution, War of Palashi, Life of Chaitanya, Freedom of our Country (India) etc. Beside this they mostly choosed their themes of Patachitra from the subject of Mediaeval Bengali Literature, such as Vaivasa Padavali, Chandi Mangal, Manasa Mangal, Dharma Mangal etc. We are all known that these literature are very popular among the general people of Bengal. On the other hand we may observed that Patuas are very sensitive towards modern trends of civilization or social problems of our society, such as environment pollution, misuse of drinking water, women harassment, political corruption, disease of AIDS etc. They also collect their themes of paintings from these type of social scenario. And in general context of view Patachitra may be devided into seven classes. Such as General, Political, Historical, Religious, Mythological, social and environmental. Now here is some example, classification and description on various Pata, as follows—

General Patachitra: All type of single image of man or woman or any kind of general art figure has considered as general Patachitra. This type of patachitra has known by another name of Chouko Patachitra or card shaped patachitra. Example—Single image of the God or Goddess, An image of animal, bird, tree etc.

Political Patachitra: This type of patachitra has formed by the characteristic of political subjects. Various political movement and also the matter of corruption has to be considered as the subject of Political Patachitra. It has not

Social Patachitra: This type of patachitra has formed by the characteristic of living organisms as applied to populations of humans and other animals. It always refers to the subject of current importance and collective co-existence. Example – Palse Polio Avijan, eradiction of Malaria, Communal harmony, Terrible Sunami, explosion in Mumbai, Tree Plantation, AIDS Awareness, Awareness on Human Rights, persecution of woman, earthquake, protest to intoxication etc.

Mythological Patachitra: This type of patachitra has formed by the characteristic of various traditional story, especially one concerning the early history of a people or explaining a natural or social phenomenon, and typically involving supernatural beings or events, which has called as myths or mythology(collected myths of a group of people). Example – Ravan Badha, Sita Haran, King Harishchandra, Krishnaleela, Durgaleela, Sabitree-Satyaban, Manasa Mangal, Chandee Mangal, Dharma Mangal, Annada Mangal etc.

Historical Patachitra: This type of patachitra has formed by the characteristic of history or past events. Example –Second World War, Ajaad Hind Fouj and Netaji Subhas Basu , Atom bomb in Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Destruction of Babri Masjid, Terrorist attack on the World Trade Centre (U.S.A.) ,Saheb Pata, Life of Vidyasagar, Life of Rabindranath Thakur, Life of Vivekananda etc.

Religious Patachitra: This type of patachitra has formed by the characteristic Example – Gaji Pata, Satyapirer Pata, Jama Pata, Shakti Pata, Vaishnab Pata, Chaitanyaleela etc.

According to shape and size there are two types of Patachitra has found. These are Squire Pata or Chouko Pata and Rolling Pata or Jarhano Pata. Squire Pata or Chouko Pata is a card shaped Patachitra, which has shaped on the basis of single impression, which has no rolling portion. This type of Pata have been making from post card size to various big sizes. Post card sized Patachitras are available at the cost of Rs.10. And other type of Chouko Patas price rate has depended on the basis of it’s size and quality. And the other type of Patachitra, named Jorhano Pata or Rolling Patachitra has known in various name, such as Dighal Pata, Latai Pata etc. This type of Patachitra has shaped by the hard work and devotion of Patua Artists. Generally one month to ten month has required for one Rolling Patachitra, which is depended on how the Patachitra is long. In length one rolling Patachitra may be formed within 10 feet to 40 feet. There are many panel existed in this Patachitra. This type of Patachitra based on dramatic story, which had described by the Patua Artist by the use of pater Gaam(Song of Patachitra). Patachitra of Krishna Lila has formed in both shaped. Chouko Pata or Squire Pata has shaped on a single impression of Lord Krishna. And the Jarano Patachitra has shaped on the story and life of the God Shree Krishna. Lord Krishna is one of the most popular avatars of Lord Vishnu. Krishna has worshiped in many temples around the world. These temples are famous because they are either associated with the birth of Lord Krishna or known for the architecture and history. Even the aura of spirituality has made the temples of Lord Krishna a peaceful pilgrimage for the devotees. This type of pata-painting has considered as Mythological Patachitra.

II. Other Mythological Patachitra:

Raban Badha – This patachitra has formed on the story of Ramayana. Central character of this Patachitra is Ravana. He was born to the sage Vishrava and his wife, the Kaikeshi. Rabana has wonder power of ten heads. He was the king of lanka. Lanka King Ravana has also various bad behavior. He kidnapped the wife of Rama(Sita). At length Ayodhya King Ram killed Ravana and saved her wife Sita. After that, Rama installed Vibhishana(Brother of Rabana) as the king of Lanka. In our sociological point of view, Ravana bears a bad image till now. He had kidnapped Sita and raped Rambha, Bedabati and many other women. To remember these bad practices general people of India seriously neglect the Ravana in Dashera festival. Because Ravana is a king of dark. Our great writer Rabindranath Tagore described Ravana as a symbol of croud, greed and disorder. A patua artist allways remembered this thinking.

Sita Haran - This patachitra has formed on the story of the Ramayana. According to the Ramayana, the king Janaka found Sita while ploughing a place of Yagna and then adopted her as daughter. When Sita reached adulthood, king Janaka organised a ‘swayambara’ for the purpose of her marriage. Ayadhya prince Ramchandra has won this swayambara and gets married with Sita. One day Lanka King Ravana kidnapped Sita from forest. Ravana took her back to his kingdom in Lanka, and Sita was held as a prisoner in his palace of Ashok kanan. During her captivity, Ravana expressed his bad desire, but Sita refused. Through all the life Sita maintained her purity. Sita was the avatar of Goddess Lakshmi, the consort of Vishnu. Sita is portrayed as the epitome of female purity and virtue. She follows her husband into exile and was abducted by Ravana. She was imprisoned on the island of Lanka until Rama rescued her by defeating the demon king Ravana. Whole life she has suffered from sorrow. Kusha and Lava were the sons of Sita.

King Harishchandra – This patachitra has formed on the story of the famous king Harishchandra. He had donated his entire kingdom to the sage Viswamitra for his Philosophy of Truth. His life and attitude is the noble example of Indian Philosophy and culture. The king, his wife and their loving son had engaged in hardwork for the purpose of the save of truth. The king helped the guard cremate the dead bodies, and his wife and son were used as household helpers at the Brahmín’s house. One day the son had walked to the garden to pluck flowers and bitten by a snake. Then he died. His mother carried his body to Harishchandra at cremation grounds. But the king Harishchandra has not recognised his wife and son. He asked to sell her golden mangalasutra and pay the tax. By this time his wife recognized her husband. Harishchandra then came to her and recognised her as his wife and felt in deep sorrow. Then she offered half of her dress as tax, Duty bound Harishchandra accepted and performed the last rites of their son Rohitashwa.

Durgaleela – This patachitra has formed on the story of the Goddess Durga. The Goddess Durga has considered as the supreme goddess in Shaktism. Her popularity is similar to Lord Krishna. According to Skanda Purana the goddess Parvati accounted the name “Durga”. She had killed the demon Durgamaasura. Goddess Parvati is considered to be the complete incarnation of Adishakti or Goddess Durga. Her father is Himalaya and mother is Menoka. In another name the Goddess Durga has called as Mahadevi, Chandi, Kali etc. She killed various demons like Chanda, Munda, Mahisashura etc.

Sabitree-Satyaban -- This patachitra has formed on the story of Sabitree and her husband Satyaban. The story of Savitri and Satyavan has found originally in the Mahabharata. Sabitree has considered as a roll model to all Indian women for her genuine purity like Sita. She was born to the king of Madra, Aswapati. When she reached adulthood, she gets married with Satyabana. But Satyabana died within one calendar year. It was mentioned by the destiny. The God of Death, Yama had arrived there and claimed the soul of Satyavana. Savitri followed Yama as he carried the soul away. In this way Yama had impressed by Savitree's dedication and purity. Last of all Yama had granted the life to Satyavana and blessed Savitri.

Life of Shree Krishna: According to Hindu mythology the God Shree Krishna has considered as an Avatara or incarnation of Lord Vishnu. Various Hindu Purana has considered Sri Krishna's divine life to mark the passing age of Dwapara Yuga. Once upon a time in this age mother Basundhara or the Earth, unable to bear the burden of sins, which was mostly committed and regulated by the evil king Kansa. Then all the Gods of heaven appealed to the God Brahma for help. Then the God Brahma prayed to the Supreme Lord Shree Vishnu. The God Vishnu assured him that he would soon be born on earth to destroy sins. From hundred of books and also from Indian folk beliefs we came to known that the God Krishna was born in Kansa’s prison. His parents were Basudeva and Devaki. Krishna was the eighth child of them. From very beginning of his childhood his life was in danger because his maternal uncle, the tyrant king Kansa was seeking to kill him. The king Kansa hared from a foretold that he would be killed by Devaki’s eighth child. After his birth Shree Krishna was sent by his father Vasudeva to his foster parents Nanda and Yasoda. They lived in Gokula. He then killed various demons including Kansa. At his early life, Sri Krishna became more famous for his Brindavan lila also. He also often depicted playing the flute for his beloved Gopis including Radha – whom were female devotees. This episode of his life was very important for the development of Hindu devotional tradition. To remember this Brindaban Lila we have been playing Rasa Lila every year. Rasa Lila is concentrated on the love of Lord Krishna for Radha. This Lila played during Raspurnima, in the Bengali month of Kartik or Aghrahayana and it is found in all the states of India. Rasa Lila is very famous in Manipur, Maharashtra, Uttar Pradesh, Gujarat and even some parts of Kerala. In Bengal it has also celebrated by all devotee people. Beside this Shree Krishna has considered as the real hero of the Epic Mahabharata. He gave the immortal dialogue of the Bhagabata Geeta. This episode has included in the Epic Mahabharata. The Bhagabata Geeta worldly known as Krishna’s yoga and Philosophy. And the role of Arjuna described in this episode as aspiring seeker, who has been seeking to the God Almighty, to known the actual truth and scope of life. The God Krishna has a deep knowledge of Society and human development. He had tried to mediate to avoid Kurukshetra war of Mahabharata.

Various important Artistic works of Krishna Lila has had a profound impact on art and culture in India. There are many Hindu temples of the God Shree Krishna has found here and there through all over India. Such as ISKCON temple(Delhi, Vrindavan, Bangalore, Kolkata, Assam etc.), Dwarkadish temple ( Dwarka) Vrindavan Temple, Banki Bihari Temple, Krishna Balaram Mandir, Govindaji Temple, Madana Mohana Temple, Jugal Kishore Temple, Jagannath Temple, Guruvayur Temple(Kerala) etc. It has also inspired that many literary works has formed in various Indian languages. Such as Bhagabata puran, Mahabharata, Vaisnava Padabalee etc. Beside this Patua artist has been forming various patachitra of Krishna Lila from thousand of years. Here is some example of Patachitra Song of Krishna Lila have collected by me from Gurupada Chitrakar, Chittaranjan Maiti, Khandu Chittrakar. This songs of patachitra has originally formed in Bengali language. I had tried to translated these in Roman Alphabet and English pronunciation.
KRISHNA LILA
Jale krishna sthale krishna krishna Mahimandale

III. Conclusion:

We have known that the God Krishna is very popular among Indian devotees and also popular to the foreigners. From many thousands of years the name of the God Krishna has existed in the blood of devotees around the whole world. Everyday we pray, we worship to the God Krishna for our goodness. In the passage of time, the story of Krishna has transformed in various forms in many mediums and in many myths. In Patachitra art we have seen the story and life of Shree Krishna has transformed in many folk forms. We have to remember that Patachitra is an important folk medium of art and culture of India. From the folk songs of patachitra of Krishna Lila we can easily understand that the God Krishna is everywhere in world. Beside this we have to remember that the holy book ‘Bhagabad Geeta’ has known as worldly myth of Krishna (specially known as the immortal words of the God Shree Krishna). So the life and works of the God Shree Krishna has considered as mythology. We know the word ‘mythology’ can refer either to the collected myths of a group of people—their body of stories which they tell to explain nature, history, and customs—or to the study of such myths. As a collection of such stories, mythology is an important feature of every culture. We know that the term ‘Myth’ means ‘A traditional story concerning the early history of a people or explaining a natural or social phenomenon and typically involving supernatural beings or events’(See, Concise Oxford English Dictionary,2011). To remember this we have tried to discuss the cultural importance of Patachitra of Krishna Lila. In this occasion it has also to be remembered that all artistic creatures including art and literature, which had formed on the subject of the life and work of Shree Krishna (including Mahabharata), has known as important mythological element of India and is signifying strong cultural phenomenon of our nation.
